MUNG-NIFICIENT BREAKFAST MUFFINS

A great breakfast filled with bean protein. Instead of using eggs, we use a copycat recipe of "just eggs". but much more flavorful without any of the non-healthy additives. Like a Starbucks egg bite, without the egg and any unhealthy additives., There are so many ways to use this recipe – this version is a great bite size treat!

Origin

Mung beans originated in the Indian subcontinent, where they were first domesticated around 4,500 years ago (circa 2500 BCE). Archaeological digs have uncovered carbonized mung bean seeds linked to ancient Indus Valley (Harappan) civilization in modern-day India and Pakistan.

Split yellow mung beans—widely known as moong dal—are whole green mung beans that have been de-husked (skinned) and split in half. This process removes the outer green layer, exposing the bright yellow interior, and significantly changes how they behave in the kitchen
